i grew up reading the qur an on my mother s lap writes ziauddin sardar it s an experience i share with most muslim children and so it is that our connection to the qur an is infused with associations of the warmest and most enduring of human bonds in reading the qur an sardar one of europe s leading public intellectuals laments that for far too many muslims the qur an he had learned in his mother s lap has become a stick used for ensuring conformity and suppressing dissenting views indeed some find in the qur an justification for misogyny validation for hatred of others an obsession with dress and mindless ritual rules for running modern states arguing passionately but reasonably against these trends sardar speaks out for a more open less doctrinaire approach to reading the qur an he contends that the qur an is not fixed in stone for all time but a dynamic text which every generation must encounter anew and whose relevance and implications for our time we have yet to fully discover the words of the qur an imply movement the religious life it tells us is not about standing still but always striving to make our life our society the entire world around us a better place for everyone sardar explores the qur an from a variety of perspectives from traditional exegesis to hermeneutics critical theory and cultural analysis drawing fresh and contemporary lessons from the sacred text he also examines what the qur an says about such contemporary topics as power and politics rights of women suicide domestic violence sex homosexuality the veil freedom of expression and evolution ziauddin sardar opens a new window on this remarkable sacred text in a book that will engage all devout muslims and will interest anyone curious about the qur an and islam today
